Correction: first experience with a new negative pressure incision management system on surgical incisions after cardiac surgery in high risk patients

Andrea Colli^{1,2*} and Maria-Luisa Camara¹

Correction

The first publication of the work [1] did not present one of the authors' name. Maria-Luisa Camara has now been correctly added to the author list, and the Competing interests and Authors' contributions sections have been updated to reflect this.

Competing interests

Maria-Luisa Camara does not have any competing interests to be declared.

Authors' contributions

AC: wrote the manuscript and was the major contributor to the conception, design and data acquisition for this study. MLC: operated on the majority of patients and contributed to the conception, design and data acquisition (pictures) of this study. All authors read and approved the final manuscript.
